

Becky Voight

August 28, 1957 - February 24, 2016

Becky Voight, daughter of Phyllis Porro and the late Ron Porro, succumbed to ovarian cancer Wednesday, February 24th at 4:30 am. Becky was born August 28th, 1957, and went to Rolla High School.

She married her adoring husband, Cliff Voight, in 1985, and they built a life together at a home surrounded by woods south of Rolla, Missouri. Their life together was pleasant with family close by, and frequent trips to the Gasconade River. Becky's life was filled with the joy of baking for friends and relatives, her appreciation of nature and animals, and working at her small business.

Becky was the owner of Ozark Vacuum, where she initially worked with her father before taking over the business in 1995. Her ability to provide customer service was a source of pride, as she enjoyed working with various people be they customers or work associates.

Becky fought hard and lived a humble life that is a source of inspiration for all who survive her; her daughter, Katie Walthall (Brandon Walthall), who now lives in Singapore, her son John Glover, of Omaha; her sisters, Ronda Miller (AJ Miller), of Nashville, and Linda Breyfogle, of Springfield; and her two grandchildren, Minna Glover and Hallie Galvan, in addition to numerous other cousins, nieces, and nephews.

Services will be held at James and Gahr Mortuary 1651 Hwy 72 East, Rolla, MO 65401, on Saturday, February 27th; a visitation from 12:00 to 2:00 followed by a short memorial service. Flowers or donations can be made to

Ovarian Cancer Research Fund or the City of Rolla Animal Shelter in care of Becky Voight, cards are available at all James & Gahr locations.
