“ I remember Carrie as a young girl, she was thin, long legged with beautiful long brown hair. She hung out with my niece & they loved Cindy Lopers song " Girls just want to have fun " and that they did. Carrie attended most of the Birthday parties/ pool parties our kids had for several years . And afew Roller skating parties!!! We all had some good times that we shared. Those are the memories I will keep. Rest in peace Carrie

“ I knew Carrie since kindergarten.....
She was my best friend growing up. From constant sleep overs, horseback riding on my family farm, to shared dreams and even a rock band lol. I got to see and share so many firsts with her. I always felt like O was supposed to protect her because she was so small and I did as much as I could. She was always on her own path in this life always creating always wanting things to be just her way. I always missed our friendship after my family split up and I moved away. But God blessed me once again years ago when we started talking again she 3 kids and was pregnant and scared. I'm glad we got to talk and share our lost feelings. But to be honest it was like we never missed a day. I have always spoken about her to my kids as one of my best friends but she was so much more than that. I grew up in such a nightmare and she was my sister and even still I love her so much. This world is truly emptier without her. I am grateful to have so many beautiful memories of my childhood with her and I will keep them treasured always. Sleep well my friend until we meet again. Love Dawn

“ I attended high school with her sister Elizabeth and was friends with her parents and Carrie. I'm in shock. We both worked in nursing and would see each other. My love and prayers go out to her family. GOD bless.
