“ She was one of my best friends and I was hurt when I found out she died and I wasn't feeling myself when she did I just wished I could see her one last time and I'm more upset that this was the only photo I took with her and I remember that day because coach Frank's got us all ice cream when we all got a new record for anything and she got one of the best throws in discus in this school district and I just miss her so much I pray every night so I can at least talk to her even if she isn't talking back but I always tell her how my day is and how life is going at school especially in band we all miss her so much and I love her with all my heart and I just wish I could hug her one last time but I know I can't and I feel terrible about myself for not doing that “ Ciarra was my best friend in Elementry School. We were (are) basicly sisters. We would always hang out in her dads office (janator's office) at school and dance to random songs. She was always really nice to me and always made me feel welcomed. Even after we grew up and fell away a bit she was always friendly and loving towards me. My heart goes out to dad, and the rest of her family, for this loss. I know that for me she was a person who could make me smile at any time. Love you Ciarra.

“ I first met Ciarra well at least talked to her for the first time in second semester when I was placed right beside her in geometry. We always had great conversations and she gave amazing advice. She offered me a place beside her at the lunch table when I had no where else to sit. She's such a smart, fun, and caring friend. We hung out at the carnival and went on a couple of rides together and made that night incredible. She will be forever remembered in our minds and our hearts.

“ Ciarra was always a bright person to be around. I would see her in the halls of highschool with a big smile on her face. She brightened my day everytime I would talk to her. She was always kind, and caring to everyone she met. Not to mention she was very talented in everything that she did. I will be praying for you and your family. My condolences.
