“ I was thinking of a memory of Robyn. The one that stood out the most was when we were kids in elementary school. My mother worked at the coat factory in St. James so during summer break one summer Robyn and I spent a lot of time at aunt Mary and uncle Archie's house. I remember lots of time playing in the yard but one day it was raining in the morning so we decided to spend the day upstairs making hand made book marks. We had so much fun creating different designs. After we had made a box full we decided to go house to house selling them for .10 cents each. We were proud of the money we made that day. I will miss Robyn dearly.
