

William Scott Freeman

September 21, 1972 - September 13, 2021

William “Scott” Freeman of Jefferson City, Missouri passed away on Monday, September 13, 2021, at the age of 48. He was born in St. Louis, Missouri on September 21, 1972, to the late William Keith and Sharon Kay (Newman) Freeman.

Scott was raised in Salem, Missouri and was a 1992 graduate of the Salem High School. He married the love of his life Angela Sullins on September 03, 1994; this union was blessed with two sons. After moving from Salem, Scott kept up with the current events by keeping a subscription to the Salem News. He and his mom would talk every Wednesday about the happenings in his hometown, something they both looked forward to.

Scott graduated from Drury University and received his master’s degree in art-history from Southern New Hampshire University and was a history professor at Columbia College. This profession was fitting for Scott as he always had a strong passion for anything history related. He was very intrigued by ghost hunting and paranormal activity, at the time of his passing, Scott was working on writing a book titled “Of Gods”, which was focused on witch trials. He had many interests; archeology, historical architecture, extraterrestrials, reading, fossils, fishing, hunting, boxing and watching movies with his family, especially his sons, who were his pride and joys. A few of their favorite movies were Indiana Jones, Star Wars, The Thing, Alien and Predator.

Scott will be remembered by all that knew him as a great storyteller; he could remember almost anything that anyone has done, when and where it happened. His best stories were always about paranormal activity, ghosts and shadow people. He was a loving, caring, kindhearted jokester who will be greatly missed by all that knew and loved him.

In addition to his parents, Scott was preceded in death by his great-nephew, Kaleb Firestine.

Scott is survived by his wife and best friend of twenty-seven years, Angela (Sullins) Freeman of Jefferson City, Missouri; sons, Skyler and Avrey Freeman of Jefferson City, Missouri; sisters, Debra Quick and Vickie Yost of Salem, Missouri; a host of nieces, nephews, extended family and friends.

A celebration of life will be held from 2:00PM – 4:00PM on Saturday, October 09, 2021 at the home of his niece Crystal Watson; refreshments will be served.
